

How We Work With New Students

The Center for Women and Gender Equity (CWGE) promotes a campus culture and climate that supports principles of social justice, equity, inclusion, and community. We advocate for a campus community that values the safety, equality, and intellectual advancement of women and historically marginalized groups. CWGE provides education, resources, and advocacy primarily on gender-related issues. We facilitate, sustain, and advance dialogue about how gender intersects with race, ethnicity, class, sexual identity, ability, age, and nationality.

Fast Facts

- 1) The CWGE provides leadership opportunities and training for challenges that uniquely impact women leaders.
- 2) CWGE received a $30,000 grant from the PA Department of Education to bring the national It's On Us sexual violence prevention initiative to WCU.
- 3) The CWGE is for everyone!

Key Takeaways

- We have employment opportunities for students (including Federal Work Study).
- The CWGE is committed to advancing the dialogue of social justice on campus.
